She never attempted any violence, however, but gave out in various ways that some man had deserted her and that she was looking after him. She greatly embarrassed several worthy young fellows by mistaking them for the object of her pursuit. Finally she was put under restraint, and was about to be examined by a commission prior to being sent to some asylum when a kinsman from Southampton arrived to-day and took charge of her, making himself responsible for her safety and for her good behavior. [Reported for the Dispatch.] Piedmont Agricultural Society Fair.

FOURTH DAY.

The number of persons present yesterday, judging from the large amounts taken in at the different gates, was the largest ever on these grounds. The weather is decidedly more pleasant to-day, though the crowd is not quite as large as on yesterday. The Fair has been attended with good order-no drunkenness, no accident, no tighting.

The first race that came off to-day was for $70 premium, one-mile heats, best two in three, $50 to the best horse and $20 to the second. The following were the entries: Trapball by J. W. Green, Tom Collins by A. Neeson, Cricket by J. R. Payne, and J Y. by H. S. Menefee. Tom Collins won the first and second heats, Trapball coming out second best both times. Tom received $50, Trapball $20. Time, 1:58, 2.

The second race was for $100 premium for the fastest trotting time in harness, mile heats, best three in five, open to all; first premium $60, second $30, third $10. Horses winning were to save their distances. The following were the entries: Flying Dutch- vear-old colt, Sanderson Thrift, $5; second of old Ike Walton, and the piscatorial Naman by J. C. Koontz, Englishman by W. J. Herrick, and Black Warrior, owned by H. Bartell. In the first heat Flying Dutchman was first, Englishman second, and Black Warrior distanced time, 2.58. In the second heat Englishman came in first, and Dutchman just behind; but | Englishman took the inside track on the last stretch, which of right belonged to Dutchman, and hence the judges decided in favor of the latter. This was owing to no fault of the rider. He said | three-year-old mare, Charles R. Lee, $7.50; Englishman was alarmed at the cheering, and pressed to that side. In the third heat Dutchman came in first-winning. It is thought by some that the last heat would have been won by Englishman but for his breaking the trot twice at the same place in the track where some negroes had congregated. Time, 2.56.

The third race was for three-quarters of mile, single dash-first premium $20, sebling, Dr. Tebault in the chair, Black Hawk mare by C. B. Williams, Billy mare, John W. Ault, Jr., 35; best one-year- is from Lynchburg. - Butler, of Ten-l by T. O. Yowell. At the start Bull-of-the-Woods took the lead, and kept it to the end, followed close by the black mare, Billy bringing up the rear. Time of the race, 1:31, During the day two wheelbarrow races were run, the parties being blindfolded. ich report had already been First at a post, won by a man named Webb; second, along the track, won by Harris. One of the parties fell over his wheelbarrow.

A match game of base-ball was commenced for a $10 belt between Locustdale Club, of cordance with terms proposed | Madison, and Culpeper Club. The game being played in the race-track circle, and not being ended in time for the races, it was stopped by the officers in charge of the ad a paper on the etiology of track-the game standing : Locustdale, 6;

Culpeper, 3. The following premiums have been awarded since last report: To T. S. Cooper for thoroughbred imported coaching stallion; H. Bartell for bay stallion Blind Tom. three years; T. S. Cooper for colt, two years and under three; R. E. Latham for second best dog-trotter; O. P. Terrill for best mule colt ; S. S. Bradford for cow Fannie, three years old; F. D. Johnson for case of fine silverware; Mrs. Stanard for peach pickles; Mrs. S. F. Hill for cucumber catsup; Mrs. S. F. Hill for walnut catsup; Mrs. J. A Bushong for apple butter.

The race-meeting of the Piedmont Horse Breeders' Association, advertised to come off next week at this place, has been postponed till next spring in consequence of its coming in conflict with the Baltimore and other race meetings. So ends the Fair.

Notes of Travel on the Southside

CHARLOTTE COUNTY, October 16, 1874. Editors Dispatch: In travelling through this section of Virginia there can be ob served increased activity among the people. They work, economize, and all their energies and means are applied to the development of the resources and increasing the prosperity of their particular locality. The tobacco crop has been generally secured, and di ave Virginians upon whom the injury from recent frosts is comparation has been conferred during tively small.

Some new settlers from the North and foreign countries are arriving, and several sales of land at good figures have been made in the lower end of this county. Cannot the people be induced to improve their public roads? They are "rocks, guilles, stumps, and roots in summer, and some with mudholes in addition in winter." The "Englishman" did not miss it far in his letter to the London Standard in this respect.

I notice on the Richmond and Danville railroad great preference of the enterprising young men to locate at or near a railroad station. At South Boston, between Drake's Campbell, Mr. Longley, &c. Branch and Keysville, there have sprung up casion was one of great enjoyment by villages of no ordinary proportions. The convenient, and all necessaries can be supplied to the people of the adjacent country. New improvements still continue, and at Pennett, $2; best shod horse, Griffith W. Pax-Roanoke depôt, near the junction of John son, $2; best harness leather, John Meud, Randolph's "Little Roanoke" and Staunton $1; best sole leather, John Meud, $1; best river, there has been recently erected a large upper leather, John Meud, $1; best calfand commodious house, to be used for the skin, John Meud, $1; best kipskin, John sale of leaf tobacco and general assortment of all kinds of goods, fertilizers, and groceries, $2; best tiles, F. W. Shafer & Son, $3; best both "dry and wet."

Mr. S. D. Spencer, who is the prime mover of this business, is a capitalist, controlling vast interests on the Staunton, and a gentleman of business capacity and untiring energy. He is connected with the Clarkesville and Richmond and Danville Railroad boat line, and has, through efficient manage-ment, given it success. His partner, Mr.

Mills, will continue to run the boat line. A small steamer connects the upper Staun-

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] LEESBURG, VA., October 15, 1874. To-day the Fair closed. Fully fifteen hundred people were on the ground examining the different departments. It was a noticeable fact that much greater interest quilt, Mrs. Eliza Parson, 83; yarn stockwas manifested in the last day's exhibition than at any previous day. Taken as a clothing, Mrs. Dr. C. G. Edwards, $3; worstwhole, the Fair of 1874 cannot be con- ed quilt, Mrs. E. V. English, $3; needle-work, Miss the display made in the stock department Louise Brown, $3; crochet work, Mrs. E. this year and that of last. This is accounted for by the farmers being so busily engaged seeding. So much time has been lost by them by bad weather of late that they did not feel justified in losing three good flax thread, Miss Bettie C. Jackson, $1; oildid not feel justified in losing three good working-days to visit the Fair.

As anticipated in a former letter, the big race to-day was very interesting. The entries were John T. Bassell's Modoc; Richmond, owned by Sellman & Fadeley; and Frank, by Burr P. Noland, Esq., the president of the Society. Modoc won in three straight heats, nearly distancing in the last heat all of his competitors.

Apropos of Mr. Bassell's horse Modoc, 11 would state, in justice to the stock-raisers of this county, that this is a young Loudoun horse, and promises, with a little more age and careful training, to be a source of great revenue to his owner. He was purchased a little over a year ago, Mr. Bassell paying the sum of $600 for him. Ever since the day he was bought he has been in the hands of an experienced trainer, and his fine action has drawn encomiums from all who have seen nim trot.

The second purse was awarded him at the Montgomery County (Md.) Fair last month, where he trotted with old and thoroughly trained horses. The record of his time has never been published, but I learn he is able to go his mile in a fraction over 2:30. I write this little sketch of Modoc to show what Loudoun will soon claim in the horse line.

A running-race was arranged, and came off immediately after the trotting. It was a new feature in agricultural fairs, and proved to be very entertaining to many who had always wished to see a race of that kind.

From some reason or other the mule-race did not come off. Much disappointment was expressed at the Society not being able to fill that part of the bill, as the scene would most certainly have afforded oceans of amusement. I append a list of the premiums as awarded by the several committees:

JOHN MITCHEL BACK .-- On Thursday last arrived in New York, per steamer Minnesota, from Liverpool, Mr. John Mitchel and daughter, accompanied by Dr. Carroll, of Philadelphia. It will be remembered that Mr. Mitchel returned to Ireland last July after an absence of twenty-six years, and that many of his friends expected he would be arrested by the British authorities as soon as he landed. Mr. Disraeli, however, did not see fit to order his arrest. Mr. Mitchel visited most of the principal places in Ireland, including the Lakes of Killarney, in a strictly private manner, and was everywhere received kindly by the people. Before leaving he was presented with a testimonial, amounting to about $8,000, by the National party in Ireland.
